2. OWNERSHIP

Field	Entry
Whose film / franchise is this?	The X-Men franchise belongs to the X-Men ensemble (real actors, the showrunner's picks). Grace Bullock's Scarlet Witch makes her debut here, and her franchise home is the Avengers, following 616.

Fictional-ensemble cast

Character	Actor	Age at release
Wanda Maximoff / The Scarlet Witch	Grace Bullock	27 (looks 22)

Real-actor cast: LOCKED (the showrunner's picks)

Character	Actor	Age at release
Professor Charles Xavier	Patrick Stewart	71
Magneto (Max Eisenhardt)	Ian McKellen	72
Cyclops (Scott Summers)	Tye Sheridan	14
Marvel Girl (Jean Grey)	Sophie Turner	15
The Beast (Hank McCoy)	Nicholas Hoult	21
Iceman (Bobby Drake)	Shawn Ashmore	32 (written as the "kid" who looks older)
The Angel (Warren Worthington III)	Ben Hardy	20
Quicksilver (Pietro Maximoff)	Evan Peters	24
The Toad (Mortimer Toynbee)	Ray Park	37
Mastermind (Jason Wyngarde)	Fresh casting (never played by a real actor)	–
Dr. Bolivar Trask	Peter Dinklage	42
Stan Lee (cameo: a man watering his lawn as the Blackbird passes overhead)	Stan Lee	88

Casting notes: Stewart and McKellen play 616's middle-aged teacher and his oldest friend. For McKellen's Magneto, the "de-aged, physically prime" 616 detail becomes a man in his 70s with the strength of someone half his age, since magnetism makes the body irrelevant. Sheridan and Turner are true teenagers, as the 1963 X-Men were. They're filmed under child-labor rules, with the Danger Room and fight sequences built around them.

3. SOURCE MATERIAL (EARTH-616)

Field	Entry
Primary comic(s) adapted	The X-Men #1 (September 1963), Stan Lee & Jack Kirby: the school, Jean Grey's arrival, Magneto's attack on Cape Citadel . The X-Men #4 (March 1964): the Brotherhood of Evil Mutants , the Scarlet Witch and Quicksilver , and the takeover of San Marco . The X-Men #11 (May 1965): the Stranger takes Magneto into space.
Supporting comics	X-Men #7 (1964, Cerebro) · X-Men #14–16 (1965, Bolivar Trask and the Sentinels) · X-Men #4 (Magneto saved Wanda from a mob, which is why the twins feel they owe him) · Avengers #16 (1965, where the twins go next)
Nerf check	✓ Magneto can move ships and missiles . It takes all five X-Men and Xavier together to stop him, and in the end a cosmic being decides it, not the X-Men.

3A. COMIC ACCURACY REPORT

Field	Entry

- Iceman's first form is a SNOWMAN (#1), and the Beast is human-looking with enormous hands and feet (1963). The blue fur comes in 1970.
- Jean's telepathy has been blocked by Xavier (616). In this film she only uses telekinesis, as in the early comics.
