

FILM DOSSIER TEMPLATE

 LOCKED. Every MCU film must have a completed dossier before it's written into the story.

Rule: no film enters the slate, the Codex or the story until every field below is filled in. The fields marked FIRST FILM ONLY apply only to film #1.

THE DOSSIER

1. IDENTITY

| Field                  | Entry                                                                                    |
|------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Film #                 | (order in the Infinity Saga)                                                      |
| Phase                  |                                                                                          |
| Real title             |                                                                                          |
| Decoy / codename title | (the fake working title on call sheets, slates and permits that keeps the secret) |
| Release date           | (US release, day and date)                                                        |
| Distributor            | (Paramount through Phase 1; Disney from The Avengers on)                          |
| Director               |                                                                                          |
| Rating / runtime       | (hard PG-13; runtime within the Franchise Bible limits)                           |
| Genre + second genre   | (superhero action-adventure plus the film's own second genre)                     |

2. OWNERSHIP

| Field                           | Entry                                                                                     |
|---------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Whose film / franchise is this? | (the actor who owns it, the way Tony Stark's films belong to Marc-Anthony Bullock) |
| Top-billed cast                 | (fictional ensemble + real-life actors per the Casting Rules)                      |

3. SOURCE MATERIAL (EARTH-616)

| Field                    | Entry                                                                                    |
|--------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Primary comic(s) adapted | (title, issue numbers, year, creators)                                                   |
| Supporting comics        | (other runs or issues that feed in)                                                      |
| 616 accuracy notes       | (what's taken straight from the page, and how any sliding-timescale update is justified) |

3A. COMIC ACCURACY REPORT (required)

| Field                  | Entry                                                                                      |
|------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Overall accuracy score | (a percentage, e.g. 98%, with one line explaining it)                                      |
| Straight from the page | (origins, costumes, dialogue, key scenes and relationships taken directly from 616)        |
| Changes and why        | (every change, however small, and the reason. Sliding-timescale updates count as changes.) |

POWERS & ABILITIES: CHARACTER BY CHARACTER

(fill in one row for every powered or skilled character in the film, heroes and villains alike)

|-----------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------|
|           | (full list, e.g. strength class, durability, speed, energy projection, skills, gear) | (what we actually see on screen) | (anything not shown yet; the reason can be story timing, but never a nerf) | ✅ 100% /⚠️ explain |

Power rules for every film:

1. Strength, speed and durability match the 616 page. If the Hulk can lift a mountain in the comics, he can lift a mountain on screen.
2. Characters grow into their powers only when the comics do it that way. If the comic origin shows a power right away, the film shows it right away.
3. Nobody loses to make someone else look good. Every loss comes from strategy, circumstance or a real mismatch, never from a character being written weaker.
4. Weaknesses are comic-accurate too. Kryptonite-style shortcuts that aren't in the comics are banned.
5. The costume and the tech match the page, adapted for real-world practicality only when a practical build requires it, and that change gets listed above.

4. STORY

| Field                   | Entry                                                                              |
|-------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Logline                 | (one sentence)                                                              |
| What the movie is about | (synopsis: beginning, middle, end)                                          |
| Theme                   | (what the film is really about underneath)                                  |
| Villain / antagonist    | (who they are, their 616 origin, what they want, and how powerful they are) |

5. MCU TIMELINE PLACEMENT

| Field                                  | Entry                                                                |
|----------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------|
| When it's set                          | (dates within the MCU timeline, following the real-time rule) |
| Where it's set                         | (real locations and fictional ones)                           |
| Where it falls relative to other films | (before, after, or at the same time as which films)           |

6. WORLD-BUILDING

| Field                                               | Entry                                                                                                                  |
|-----------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| The film's own world                                | (its corner of the universe: supporting cast, locations, technology or magic, rules)                            |
| World-building for the wider MCU                    | (what it adds to the shared universe: S.H.I.E.L.D., other heroes, organizations, cross-references, Easter eggs) |
| Setting up the Big Bad (Thanos / the Infinity Saga) | (Gems, Thanos's agents, cosmic foreshadowing, Death. How and where, explicit or hidden.)                        |

7. POST-CREDIT SCENES

| Field                 | Entry                                                |
|-----------------------|------------------------------------------------------|
| Mid-credit scene      | (yes/no, and what happens)                    |
| Post-credit scene     | (yes/no, and what happens)                    |
| Secret shoot codename | (the fake slate name the scene is shot under) |

8. ★ FIRST FILM ONLY: HOW IT KICKS EVERYTHING OFF

| Field                                     | Entry                                                               |
|-------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------|
| How the film launches the shared universe | (the first thread that ties this film to every one after it) |
| The first reveal                          | (the moment the audience realizes there's something bigger)  |
| What the fans discover, and when          | (what the public picks up on opening weekend)                |
| Seeds planted for Phase 1                 | (each thread and which film it pays off in)                  |
