FILM #1: IRON MAN (why it kicks everything off)

- Character: Tony Stark / Iron Man. First appearance: Tales of Suspense #39 (March 1963), Stan Lee, Larry Lieber, Don Heck and Jack Kirby.
- Why Iron Man goes first, even though we own everyone:
- Thanos debuted in an Iron Man comic. Jim Starlin introduced him in Iron Man #55 (Feb. 1973), so starting the Infinity Saga with Iron Man is comic-accurate at the very root.
- He's the most grounded way in. Iron Man runs on technology instead of magic, mutation or the cosmos, so a 2008 audience can believe it. Every later film makes the world a little bigger from there.
- Tony pays for the Avengers. On 616, Stark money builds the team and Stark's mansion becomes its home. The man who funds the Avengers should be the first one we meet.
- S.H.I.E.L.D. fits naturally. A defense contractor is exactly who Nick Fury would show up to see.

- The underdog story matches the studio's. It's a B-list hero from a studio that's never made a movie, starring an actor Hollywood wrote off. Tony, Marc-Anthony and Marvel all have something to prove.
- Release date: Friday, May 2, 2008. It's the first weekend of the summer season, a week ahead of Speed Racer (May 9) and three weeks ahead of Indiana Jones and the Kingdom of the Crystal Skull (May 22), which gives it room to hold on for several weekends.

FILM #2: THE INCREDIBLE HULK

- Character: Bruce Banner / the Hulk. First appearance: The Incredible Hulk #1 (May 1962), Stan Lee & Jack Kirby.
- Why second: he's a founding Avenger, and in Avengers #1 the Hulk is the reason the team forms (Loki frames him). Audiences need to meet him before that. It also pairs naturally with Iron Man: both are science origins, and Tony's workshop TV already reported the gamma accident at Desert Base. It's a grounded fugitive thriller that widens the world one step.
- Release date: Friday, June 13, 2008. Six weeks after Iron Man, so Marvel has two films in theaters in one summer. It also avoids Hancock (July 2) and The Dark Knight (July 18).

FILM #3: THOR

- Character: Thor Odinson. First appearance: Journey into Mystery #83 (August 1962), Stan Lee, Larry Lieber & Jack Kirby.
- Why third: he's a founding Avenger, and Loki, the villain who brings the Avengers together in Avengers #1, comes from Thor's world. After two science films, Thor opens the door to gods, magic and the Nine Realms, and the cosmos where Thanos lives.
- Release date: Friday, May 1, 2009. It opens the 2009 summer season, the same slot Iron Man used, and comes a week ahead of Star Trek (May 8).

FILM #4: ANT-MAN (with the Wasp)

- Characters: Dr. Hank Pym / Ant-Man, first appearing in Tales to Astonish #27 (January 1962) and in costume in #35 (September 1962), and Janet van Dyne / the Wasp, first appearing in Tales to Astonish #44 (June 1963). Stan Lee, Larry Lieber, H.E. Huebner & Jack Kirby.
- Why fourth: Ant-Man and the Wasp are two of the five founding Avengers, and the Wasp names the team. One film brings in both, as the comics did, and pays off the Pym journal from Iron Man. It's sci-fi adventure at impossible scale, a fresh genre after armor, monster and myth.
- Release date: Friday, November 6, 2009. It opens the holiday corridor with four more weeks of family audiences behind it.
- Casting: Tyler Chapman (Hank) and Eliza Blythe (Janet) are announced together at San Diego Comic-Con on July 26, 2008. Eliza has already appeared secretly as Janet in Iron Man.

FILM #5: IRON MAN 2

- Character: Tony Stark / Iron Man, the first sequel.
- Release date: Friday, May 7, 2010. The first Friday in May, two years after the original. It pays off the Mandarin's rings and "Next time, baby."

FILM #6: CAPTAIN AMERICA

- Character: Steve Rogers / Captain America. First appearance: Captain America Comics #1 (March 1941, cover-dated), Joe Simon & Jack Kirby. The Avengers find him in the ice in Avengers #4 (March 1964).
- Why sixth:
- Cap closes out the founding era the way the comics did. In 616 he wasn't a founder. He joined in Avengers #4 after the Avengers found him frozen in the ice. His film ends with Steve going into the ice, and The Avengers is where the team finds him.
- It's the MCU's only period piece. A WWII war epic from 1941 to 1945 gives the saga its history: Project: Rebirth and Dr. Abraham Erskine, Bucky Barnes, the Red Skull, and Sgt. Nick Fury and his Howling Commandos (616: they fought beside Cap). That's also where Samuel L. Jackson's Fury history comes from.
- It sets up the Big Bad accurately to the comics. The Cosmic Cube is the prize Thanos went after first in Captain Marvel #27–33 (1973), before he ever went for the Gems. On 616 it was built by A.I.M. in the modern era (Tales of Suspense #79, 1966), not in WWII, so it appears in the film's present-day post-credit scene in A.I.M.'s lab.
- Release date: Friday, July 22, 2011. It's the heart of summer, three weeks after Independence Day, and clear of Transformers: Dark of the Moon (June 29). Paramount distributes both films and wouldn't put them head to head. It also comes a week after the final Harry Potter (July 15), once that film's opening surge has passed.

FILM #7: X-MEN

- Characters: the original X-Men: Professor Charles Xavier and his first students Cyclops, Marvel Girl (Jean Grey), the Beast, Iceman and the Angel. They face Magneto and the Brotherhood of Evil Mutants, including the Scarlet Witch and Quicksilver.
- Comics: *The X-Men #1 (September 1963), Stan Lee & Jack Kirby. The Brotherhood, with Wanda and Pietro, first appears in X-Men #4 (March 1964).
- Why seventh:
- It's the Avengers' twin launch. The X-Men #1 and The Avengers #1 both carry a September 1963 cover date, from the same creators in the same month. Putting X-Men right before The Avengers matches how the comics started.

- We own them, and nobody gets left out. In our reality no other studio has ever made an X-Men film. This is the world's first look at mutants, the X-gene and the dream of Charles Xavier.
- It brings in the Scarlet Witch the 616 way. Wanda (Grace Bullock) and her brother Pietro debut as reluctant members of Magneto's Brotherhood. As of 2011 on 616, Magneto is their father. They leave him and reform, which sets up "Cap's Kooky Quartet" (Avengers #16) for Phase 2.
- It makes the world bigger. After technology, gamma, gods, size-changing science and a super-soldier, the last kind of hero is born, not made. Mutants give the Avengers a world they share with a feared minority, and Marvel's biggest social theme.
- Release date: Friday, November 4, 2011. It opens the holiday corridor again, fifteen weeks after Captain America. The competition is Tower Heist (the same day), and it comes two weeks ahead of The Twilight Saga: Breaking Dawn – Part 1 (November 18).
- Casting note: under the Casting Rules, the X-Men and Magneto are played by real actors, and the showrunner picks where more than one real actor played a role. Quicksilver is a showrunner's pick too. Grace Bullock (Wanda) is announced at San Diego Comic-Con on July 24, 2010.

FILM #8: THE AVENGERS (Phase 1 finale)

- Comics: The Avengers #1 (September 1963, Lee & Kirby), the founding against Loki, and The Avengers* #4 (March 1964), where the team finds Captain America in the ice.
- Release date: Friday, May 4, 2012. The first Friday in May, Marvel's summer-opening slot from Iron Man on. It gets eleven weeks of clear room before The Dark Knight Rises (July 20). The Amazing Spider-Man (July 3) doesn't exist in our reality, because Spider-Man belongs to Marvel.
- Distributor: Walt Disney Studios Motion Pictures. Disney bought Paramount's distribution rights after the 2009 acquisition, so this is the first MCU film released by Disney.
- Why May 4 works: it's four years to the weekend after Iron Man, and the eight-film plan comes together at the start of summer. The Phase 1 final shot is a purple hand, a golden glove, and "To challenge them... is to court Death."

Phase 1 so far: the founders come first

By Iron Man 2, four of the five founding Avengers (Iron Man, Hulk, Thor, Ant-Man) plus the Wasp have been introduced. Slot #6 is Captain America, whom the Avengers find frozen in the ice as in 616. Slot #7 is X-Men, the Avengers' twin launch from September 1963, and The Avengers is Film #8 (2012).
